Peter Brumwell, of Waverly, has sold part of his farm.

Remember the social at Mr. Ed. Gilman's this (Thursday) evening, Feb. 1st.

Rumor says Frank Drew is——Well, what of it? Who has a better right?

Frank Conger has been called home on account of the sickness of his father.

Prof. Dunham and Burton, of Kalamazoo, made a flying visit to this place on Tuesday last.

Our circuit court has adjourned until April 7th, the Saturday preceding the next term.

S. H. Blackman, Esq., has gone up north, to Reed City and other places, visiting friends.

Wells Mosier has gone to New York to see his wife. He has had enough of single-blessedness.

We supposed Seward Hawkins was a sober man, but he got tipped over into a snow bank just the same.

Geo. Berridge has returned from a few weeks' visit to Kansas. He says the weather was tremendous cold there.

Brad. Stanton, Esq., has returned from New York. He says he is well satisfied to get back to Michigan again.

We have received from the land office at Aberdeen, Dak., a certified copy of the Aberdeen Land District. Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Eaton, of Kansas, have been visiting at Mr. Rowland's. Mr. E. has a sister at work in the Dyckman House.

The annual meeting of the Van Buren County Sunday School Association, will be held at Bangor on the 27th and 28th days of the present month.

Van, of the Paw Paw Herald, is getting terribly wicked. The first line of his local column, in last week's paper, contains this legend: "The public be damned."

The party at Longwell's Opera House, last Friday evening, music by Hull & Arnold's band, was a success, and the boys and girls, married and unmarried, had a good time.

Geo. E. Grout has been allowed a pension of four dollars per month. His back pension amounts to about $825. O. W. Rowland and C. E. Galligan, procured it for him.

On Wednesday last we visited the school in this town, spending the afternoon with the 8th and 9th grades. If the rest of the school is doing as well as these grades, it is doing well.

Thanks to friend W. H. Knowles, of Mitchell, Dakota, for late Dakota paper, containing a handy map of that State. The map now ornaments the walls of our sanctum.

We received a pleasant call from Mr. Smith, of Ohio, who is visiting his brother, S. A. Smith. He says the town has changed very much since he used to work here, over a quarter of a century ago.

Somebody habitually violates one of our village ordinances by turning cattle into the streets. Those cattle may possibly find their way to the pound, and that will cause their owner to marmur. Better obey the law.

The measles have been quite prevalent in this village and vicinity. Miss Edith Erkenbeck, of Antwerp, was one of the children who suffered from them, but she has recovered, and rejoices that she will not have them again.

Manny Reynolds is a rattling young man from Hartford, and wears a pair of low necked shoes. He took in this town the other day, and after filling up with Saratoga High Rock water, got on his muscle a little, and it cost him about $15 to cool off.

Ed. Darling, of this place, has gone into the publishing business with one Dickinson, of Detroit, and has opened an office at Chicago, in the Times building, where you have to sail to his den in an elevator. Ed. is a good, steady young man, and we predict success for him.

The meetings at the Disciple church, conducted by Elder Reese, are well attended and interesting. If we thought the members of that church would take it in good part, we would advise them to issue a "call" for Mr. Reese that would induce him to take permanent charge of the flock.

Pedestrians had need to keep sober last Friday evening. The weather had moderated so that a light rain had fallen, which froze as fast as it fell, and the walks were soon covered with a film of ice, which, with the brisk breeze that was blowing, made it almost impossible to stand.

H. J. Hendryx, of Dowagiac, was in town the other day, the guest of Bill Johnson. —Paw Paw Northerner. Yes, and we suppose he will tell the readers of the Courier what Bill Johnson gave him to eat.—South Haven Messenger. Not at all, Bro. Brown. H. J. and Capt. J. R. are two different individuals.

That young man, clerk in one of our stores, we will not publish his name, made a bad mistake when he accosted a lady on the streets near the Opera House, last Saturday evening. It wasn't the woman he thought it was. And then to make the same mistake with the same lady a little farther on, was peculiarly unfortunate. When you have anything of the kind on hand again, be sure you accost the right woman, or it may lead to trouble.

The Union School at Hartford had to get along without an assistant, while Miss Ada Simpson was wrestling with the measles. One of the pupils, Mr. Ruggles, took her place for a week or so, and filled the bill, but when the board informed him that they would pay him nothing for his services, intimating that the experience was sufficient compensation, he very properly resumed his place as a pupil. When one of the teachers in our school is unable to perform her duties, the place is filled and the salary goes right along, which looks like the fairest way to do business.

Prof. E. Cook, of Portland, Oregon, sent us a copy of the Daily (Portland) News, which contains the conclusion of the trial of Scott Beebe, who was charged with attempted jury bribing. The trial was hotly contested, and a vigorous attempt made to convict, but the jury, remaining out but a few minutes, returned with a verdict of "Not Guilty."

We are heartily glad of this result, as from our acquaintance with the respondent, we feel assured that he never could have been guilty of any such crime as charged. The verdict was received with much satisfaction, by Scott's many friends in Portland.

Our people may expect to witness some very fine dramatic work on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week, by Buck's Dramatic Company. The members have the reputation of always giving entertainments that please and satisfy their audiences and their music alone is said to be worth the price of admission. The celebrated musicians Olof Bull, violinist, and Louis Gross, pianist, who belong to the troupe, are artists in the musical line. The company will give a Saturday afternoon Matinee at which the admission fee will be reduced to 15 cents for children and 25 cents for adults. This will afford parents an excellent opportunity to take their families to a first class entertainment without keeping them out late at night. The play at the matinee will be "The Hidden Hand." Tickets can be procured at Chappell's.

Subject of morning discourse at the M. E. Church next Sunday morning, "Neutrality in Religion." Evening, "Post mortem Probation."

The M. E. Society will give an oyster social on Wednesday evening, Feb. 7th, at the residence of Mrs. E. L. Clark, one door north of post office.

Miss Ada Simpson, whom we mentioned last week, as wrestling with the measles, was able to take her place in school again, this week Monday.—Day Spring.

Nice, new, fat, good-natured girl baby at R. O. Beebe's, and Rob. is jolly and happy and is about to take out another life insurance policy for the baby's benefit.

Latest advices from Frank Stearns. "Don't want to see any more Dakota 'blizzard,' got enough, mercury 44° below zero. Coming home as soon as trains begin to run."

Jimmie Warner, the "talking machine" from Gobles, or, as he says, correspondent of the Goblesville Her-ald, hove in town on Wednesday last, with his old (paregorically speaking) drunk.

Just as we were going to press, we were informed of the death of Judge A. W. Nash, who passed away at an early hour Thursday morning. His funeral will take place at his residence, on his farm, next Saturday at 11:30 a. m.

Sometimes it happens that men make mistakes in regard to their physical strength and agility. The Irish boy proved too much for the would-be champion, in that wrestling match, although the opposite result was confidently expected by the Irishman's opponent.

The Manley-Olney case, concerning which so much has been said, was amicably arranged by the parties themselves, on Tuesday last. The case was on call that day and some testimony taken during the forenoon, but after dinner the parties announced that they had arrived at a settlement, which was, probably, the best thing for all concerned.

Dr. Clark, of Detroit, wrote an article in the Post and Tribune attempting to explain in a philosophical way, the modus operandi by which Underwood, the fireblower, performed his marvelous feat. This called out A. H. Heron, who replied through the columns of the same paper, that Underwood did not do it in any such way. And now the Dr. writes Mr. Heron, that he acknowledges himself skeptical, but wants an interview with Underwood. Probably he can be accommodated.

From an interview with Colum. Engle, the peach man, we learned the following facts in regard to the effects of the recent cold weather on the coming peach crop. Mr. E. says, the buds are badly injured, but that some varieties are hurt worse than others. His conclusions, from an examination of his orchard, are that he has a prospect of a fair crop of Hills Chilis, Heath Clings, and Yellow Honest Johns, and that other varieties are injured in the following order, those named first being injured least: Old Mixon, Barnard, Early Beatrice, Late Crawford, Early Crawford, Hale's Early, and Alexanders.

Died, in Paw Paw, on Saturday morning, January 27th, 1883, Mrs. Hannah Woodman, wife of Dr. L. C. Woodman, of this village. The deceased was buried at Prospect Hill cemetery, on Monday last. Mrs. Woodman was a daughter of John Smolk, of this place, and was well known and much beloved. She had been for many years a great sufferer, but bore her suffering with patience, meekness and resignation. The bereaved family and friends have the heartfelt sympathy of this entire community. Without exception all feel that the children have lost a kind and tender mother, the husband, a true and affectionate wife, the parents, a loved and loving daughter, and this community, a grand and noble woman.

Too late to make public announcement of the fact, Mr. Cole, the Methodist Pastor, received notice that Mr. Rule would not be able to meet his engagement to lecture here last Tuesday evening. Resolved not to disappoint the audience, he drove to Kalamazoo and beyond, and procured Rev. Washington Gardner, of the "big village," who addressed the people on the subject of "Waste." His lecture treated of but one source of waste, the financial, intellectual, physical and moral waste caused by the use of tobacco in its various forms. It was a masterly argument against the use of the pernicious weed as even its votaries will admit. The audience appreciated not only the energy displayed by Mr. Cole, but also the address, and as it really makes four lectures in the course without additional cost, there is no ground for disappointment or complaint. Mr. Rule will give his lecture on "breakers" at a future date to be announced. The next lecture of the course is that of Prof. McLouth, subject, "The World We Live In," on Friday evening, Feb. 16.
